Ecommerce / Ecommerce store

Ecommerce is the act of selling and buying products online. An Ecommerce store is any store online that sells something. E.g. Amazon, Alibaba, Jumia, Online store of your uncle developed by any CMS (Content Management Software). Huge Ecommerce stores are popularly referred to as Ecommerce marketplace as they tend to sell products from different sellers/vendors, in fact they do not have a specific product of their own. Amazon for instance do not have any products manufactured by Amazon, they leverage on other sellers.

To own an Ecommerce store, you have to build one using any CMS available such as Shopify, Oberlo, WordPress etc.

Introduction to dropshipping

Dropshipping is an ecommerce business model that allows you to import products from Online marketplace and sell them in your Shopify store.

Dropshipping is the easiest way to launch an ecommerce store without spending tons of money upfront (no inventory needed)

With dropshipping, you don't need to hold any physical inventory. Instead, your supplier ships products directly to your customers.

5 Steps Modules in Dropshipping

1. Find products to sell
2. Build online Store
3. Market your Products
4. Customer places an order
5. Supplier Ship products

(the process from which the products that a customer ordered for is been shipped to the stage of receiving is referred to as Fulfillment)

There are three statuses of products ordered as a dropshippers: Ordered fulfilled, Pending, refunded.

What does it take to be successful in dropshipping?

Effort, Hustle, Time and Persistence..... You making sure you understands these will erase any thought of instant gratification you may be having.

First Step Module towards building dropshipping store:

Find a product to sell

Kinds of store:

1. Niche store- Store of multiple products that falls into same categories e.g.
<https://tobymassager.com>
2. General Store- Store having products from every category e.g.
<https://www.ezyzones.com/>
3. One Products store – Store having one single product e.g.
<https://www.lighterlocators.com>

Why Niche Stores are the best for beginners wanting to start dropshipping: They give flexibility to try different products while at the same time gives you the ability to grow a brand that customers can come back to.

The 5 main criteria of winning products

1. Products should be hard to find in stores.
2. It should be hard for customers to guess the product's price.
3. Products should solve a problem or stand out.
4. Customers should be able to buy products impulsively, without much research.
5. Products should be under $25 on the marketplace, why? To keep a good profit margin. As well, pay attention to product price. Product price will affect your profit margins, marketing budget, and customers' willingness to purchase.

Other criteria

- Only sell products that adhere to Facebook's ad policies.
- Avoid selling products that could potentially cause harm to your customers, such as make-up, skincare items, and toys for very young children.
- Look for products with high order counts. The higher the order count, the more in-demand a product is

Dropshipping Suppliers/ Dropshipping APP

Dropshipping suppliers are ecommerce marketplace that support dropshipping, while dropshipping app serves as an intermediate between Suppliers and your Store.

Here's a list of some popular dropshipping suppliers and apps to consider:

Dropshipping Suppliers:

Spocket: A dropshipping marketplace with US and EU suppliers offering fast shipping times and good product quality. They have a user-friendly platform and offer good customer support.

AliExpress Dropshipping: A massive online marketplace with a wide variety of products from Chinese suppliers. Prices are generally low, but shipping times can be long and product quality can vary.

Modalyst: Offers brand-name products and integrates with Shopify and other ecommerce platforms. They have a curated selection of suppliers and offer good customer support.

SaleHoo: A directory of pre-vetted dropshipping suppliers. They offer a subscription service that gives you access to their directory and other resources.

Doba: A dropshipping platform with a wide variety of products from US and international suppliers. They offer a free plan and paid plans with more features.

Dropshipping Apps:

DSers - AliExpress Dropshipping: Integrates AliExpress with your Shopify store and automates many dropshipping tasks. They offer a free plan and paid plans with more features.

CJ Dropshipping: Offers fast shipping times and private labeling services. They have a user-friendly platform and offer good customer support.

Zendrop: Offers dropshipping and print-on-demand services. They have a wide variety of products and offer good customer support.

AutoDS: Integrates with multiple dropshipping suppliers and automates many dropshipping tasks. They offer a free plan and paid plans with more features.

Printful: A print-on-demand service that allows you to create custom products like t-shirts, mugs, and phone cases. They integrate with many ecommerce platforms and offer good customer support.

Choosing the right dropshipping supplier and app

This depends on your specific needs and preferences. Consider factors such as product selection, shipping times, pricing, customer support, and ease of use.

Here are some additional tips for choosing a dropshipping supplier:

- Shipping/ Delivery period
- Read reviews of different suppliers before making a decision.
- Request samples of products to ensure quality.
- Make sure the supplier has a good return policy.

Brainstorm 20 product ideas

Use bestseller lists like these to find product ideas:

Amazon: Validate the product has enough reviews on Amazon.

Things to avoid while dropshipping-

- Avoid dropshipping branded product
- Avoid dropshipping products that goes against ads policy
- Avoid dropshipping products you can't build a brand around.
- Avoid dropshipping from suppliers with low reputation

Key takeaways: What is AliExpress?

AliExpress is a popular Chinese ecommerce marketplace through which you can find products to sell from Chinese suppliers. Look for products with high order counts. The higher the order count, the more in-demand a product is. As well, pay attention to product price. Product price will affect your profit margins, marketing budget, and customers' willingness to purchase

After filling up the products research list and filtering the one you want to base on from the perspective of several criteria we have discussed: the demand trend, safety to health and ads policy. You might as well need to check if it aligns with your passion to narrow the product more. Now you have a list of products you want to work with.

But here is the catch; More than one seller is selling such a product, so how will you choose the right supplier to work with?

Finding suppliers

Key takeaways: Pay attention to product ratings and reviews. They are a good reflection of product quality, shipping speed, and supplier reliability. Aim to sell products with ratings of 4.5 or higher. Always check supplier ratings. Only choose suppliers with a rating above 95%.

Here are criteria to look at when choosing the right supplier-

- Note products order count
- Note the product price
- Note the shipping method
- Note the cost of shipping
- Note the estimated Delivery time
- Note product rating/ No. of rating (advisable to go with 4.5 above)
- Note Supplier rating / store open date

Real talk: shipping times

Shipping and Delivery duration, the nightmare of all dropshippers, but should they really worry about it? Does shipping duration freak out customers or not?

New dropshippers often get nervous that customers won't buy products with long shipping times. However, when you sell products that are hard to find in stores and easier to impulse buy, customers usually don't mind waiting for their product. In future lessons, you'll learn how to write product descriptions and FAQs that put customer's minds at ease when it comes to shipping times

Here are the Criteria to ensure that your business thrive despite longer than overnight shipping time –

- Why? (Make your products PROBLEM SOLVING, that gives customers a huge WHY, reason they need to go after it. This way they won't think about the necessity of the waiting period. All they would be thinking about is having the product to solve their immediate need.
- Be Transparent enough to include your product description with the expected delivery date.
- Use a shipping method that provides Tracking, this will help you to provide answers to potential customer questions.

Now that you have your products, your suppliers.... All you want to think about is building an ecommerce store.

There are another few platforms for building an online store, such as Prestashop, bigcommerce, magneto etc.

What is SHOPIFY?

Shopify is an ecommerce platform that lets you start, grow, and manage a business.

Why Shopify? Here are reasons why you should consider shopify over any other ecommerce platform out there:

1. Shopify is simple, no technical knowledge needed
2. Free to get started with and pretty affordable after that. Shopify is free for the first 14 days, and is $29 per month after that.
3. Shopify is reliable, self-hosted. You won't have to worry about your store going down during high traffic holidays like black Friday and cyber-Monday.
4. Shopify is customization, no limit to what you can do thanks to all the apps made available to plugin to your Shopify store and add extra functionality.

For all these reasons, it makes a lot of sense to sign up on shopify

FREQUENTLY ASKED QUESTIONS ABOUT DROPSHIPPING

Starting a dropshipping business comes with many questions, especially for beginners. Whether you're wondering how dropshipping works, how to find reliable suppliers, or whether it's still profitable in 2025, this section covers the most frequently asked questions to help you understand the essentials of dropshipping and set yourself up for success.

Here are some of the most frequently asked questions about dropshipping:

1. Is dropshipping legal? Yes, dropshipping is a legal business model used by many retailers worldwide. However, it's essential to comply with all relevant laws and regulations, including those related to taxes, consumer protection, and intellectual property rights.

2. How much do I need to start a dropshipping business?

The startup costs for a dropshipping business are generally lower than traditional retail models since you don't need to buy inventory upfront. However, certain expenses are unavoidable. Here's a breakdown of potential costs:

- E-commerce platform fees – Shopify starts at $30/month.
- Shopify theme – Prices range from $100 and above, depending on the design and features.
- Domain name registration – Typically costs around $20/year (e.g., Namecheap).
- Store design – Varies based on the expert's quote and complexity of customization.
- Marketing & advertising – Includes paid ads, influencer promotions, and organic marketing strategies.
- Optional tools & apps – Enhances store functionality (e.g., product research tools, automation apps).

The total cost depends on your approach. A basic dropshipping setup may require $300–$500, while a more advanced store with premium themes and aggressive marketing could go beyond $1,000.

3. Is dropshipping still profitable in 2025? Yes, dropshipping can still be profitable in 2025. Success depends on factors like selecting the right niche, effective marketing strategies, and providing excellent customer service.

4. How do I handle returns and refunds in dropshipping? Return and refund policies depend on agreements with your suppliers. It's essential to:

- Clearly outline your return policy on your website.
- Communicate promptly with customers regarding any issues.
- Coordinate with suppliers to process returns or replacements as needed.
